Happy Birthday Julia
Great school
Great participation

Welcome back to Week 3. Students are excitedly measuring and designing our/their new learning spaces. With our focus on 21st Century learning, this project is providing a very real world application to numeracy, literacy, HSIE, science and art as they work mathematically in area, length, 3D and 2D planning and modelling, created surveys to collect, analyse and manipulate data, costing, working to scale, letter writing and creating lovely items to go in the classrooms.

Students are planning to have their first draft made available to you, the school community for feedback and comment by early next week and we are anticipating the wall to be removed during the Christmas break.

Anne-Moore, Principal

Wanted - sewers and material

An essential component of the new learning spaces will be comfortable, flexible seating. We would like to make a range of hand-made comfy cushions for our plastic chairs and for learning on the floor. We are looking for materials and most importantly anyone who is able to come along to the school to help the students make sid cushions. You do not have to be an expert in cushion making, just willing to work with a group to assist with the making (although all experts most welcome!!). We are looking to re-cover the soft chairs with nice bright colours also. Please let the office know if you have any ideas, materials, ideas for where to source materials or time to assist in the making.

If you find any bright ideas for our classrooms, please add to the pinterest board:
